

Water Diversion

Sirs: — I wish to commend and thank you for the account of the remarks I made at the Y o u n g Liberal Convention concerning w a t e r diversion and the possible consequences which appeared in the April 18 edition of The Journal.

It should be noted that the effects of indiscriminately diverting water may eventually be comparable to the effects of water pollution, which are now so much in the public eye, since there is little difference if plant and marine life are adversely affected by changes in the temperature or by pollution of their environment.
